I'm having the day from hell.
It was all going so well, before you came,
And you told me you needed space
With a kiss on the side my face. Not again!
And not to mention the tears I shed,
But I should have kicked your ass instead!
I need intervention,
Attention to stop temptation to scream.

'Cause, baby,
Everything is fed up straight from the heart!
Tell me what do you do,
When it all falls apart?
Gotta pick myself up where do I start,
'Cause I can't turn to you,
When it all falls apart.
No!

Don't know where I parked my car,
Don't know who my real friends are anymore.
I put my faith in you!
What a stupid thing to do? When it rains it pours.
And not to mention I drank too much,
I'm feeling hung over
And out of touch.
I need intervention,
Attention to stop temptation to scream.

Baby,
Everything is fed up straight from the heart!
Tell me what do you do,
When it all falls apart?
Gotta pick myself up where do I start,
'Cause I can't turn to you,
When it all falls apart.
No!

Can it be easier?
Can I just change my life?
'Cause it just seems to go bad everytime.
Will I be mending?

Another one ending once again..

Everything is fed up straight from the heart!
Tell me what do you do,
When it all falls apart?
Gotta pick myself up where do I start,
'Cause I can't turn to you,
When it all falls apart.
(chorus x2)

Falls apart!
Gotta pick myself out
'Cause things are mended.

Everything is fed up straight from the heart!
Tell me what do you do,
When it all falls apart?
Gotta pick myself up where do I start,
'Cause I can't turn to you,
When it all falls apart.
