Johnny walked right in
They said "Hey boy what you think you're doing?"
He looked at the sign "No shoes, No service"
No shoes, f*** that
Three cigs left to his pack
He's got a godd*** monkey on his back
And that girl ain't coming home

Six strings will take me home
I been rolling down that road again
Six strings will take me home
Take me back home again
I've been playing rock 'n roll
That music save my soul
And if I die, six strings right by my side

Johnny count to five
They said, "Hey boy what you play ain't music"
They all told him why, "Too loud, too fast"
Too loud? F*** that.
But Johnny said
"You'll burn in hell 'cause imma play just how I like"
Six million problems but he won't hear a single one

Six strings will take me home
I been rolling down that road again
Six strings will take me home
Take me back home again
I've been playing rock 'n roll
That music save my soul
And if I die, six strings right by my side

And in the end, he'll tell you time won't be a friend
Won't be a friend, he'll never play that song again
