Who can tell you when Where and when the storm draws in Like a light that's growing dim
To give way and let night in

I
I got these feelings they remind me of Oh I got these things they remind me of
The things you do
The things you do
The things you do you
Do the things you do to me
Yeah hey yeah

Oh I was walking on
On the way I passed your home
And I see, see you there alone
Oh but I can't reach you no more
And still

I got these feelings they remind me of Oh I got these things they remind me of the Things you do the things you do
The things you do you do the things you do to me
Oh the things you do the things you do the things you do the things you do yeah you do
The things you do to me

Yeah I never got the chance
I didn't get the chance to say
What I really though
I think my thoughts got in the way
You never gave away what you didn't want to give away
To think I even thought maybe my love could make you stay

If and when somehow
I get the chance again
Oh I I will not let go no
And I will keep this all alone
Oh

And I got these feelings
They remind me of the things you do the things you do the things you do yeah you do
The things you do to me
Oh the things you do the things you do the things you do yeah you do
the things you do to me
Hey hey yeah
