We wait here till something blows our way.
We wait here deludedly up against the grey.
Well I don't care for what you say.
No I don't care for what you say.

But oh poor boy there's something messing with your head.
But oh poor boy all memories and regret.

We were waiting for the fire to clear
As the rain rushed over our heads
Stand up now, look around, feel the air
Or just save it for another time
Just save it for another

I realise we are not meant to stay.
I realise that we are only slipping away.
Well I don't care for what you say.
No be careful what you say.

But oh poor boy there's something messing with your head.
But oh poor boy all memories and regret.

We were waiting for the fire to clear
As the rain rushed over our heads
Stand up now, look around, feel the air
Or just save it for another time
Just save it for another

Little lamb, is that what you need?
Well it's more than I can give.
Yeah, It's more than I can give.
Settle down, is that what you need?
It's more than I can give
Yeah, it's more than I can give.

But oh poor boy, your memories in regret.

We were waiting for the fire to clear
As the rain rushed over our heads

Stand up now, look around, feel the air
Or just save it for another time
Just save it for another time
Just save it for another time
Just save it for another time
Just save it for another time
Just save it for another time

Little lamb, is that what you need?
Well it's more than I can give.
It's more than I can give.
To you.
