You put your money where you mouth is.
Put your pen down on the checkbook and spell out what you mean.
You've got some strange little views on what is natural justice.
Grow up and you'll see what I mean.

I'm really feeling OK.
I'm just foaming at the lips.
I've got a temporary twitch.
It's always been this way.
I'm really feeling OK.
I'm just foaming at the lips.
I've got a temporary twitch.
Hey, you and I are the same.

My friend I heard about a different story
One where they took you for another man
But I didn't mind 'cause really we're just one and the same
No need to fake it if the pose is holding
Pass the candle to the next in line as we move along
Really we're just one and the same

You pay for what is worth believing.
That's a temporary seizing of your fifteen minutes of fame.
You make an hourglass a feeling.
Heavy sands mark your reason to dictate our whole day.

I'm really feeling OK.
I'm just foaming at the lips.
I've got a temporary twitch.
It's always been this way.
I'm really feeling OK.
I'm just foaming at the lips.
I've got a temporary twitch.
Hey, you and I are the same.

My friend I heard about a different story

One where they took you for another man
But I didn't mind 'cause really we're just one and the same
No need to fake it if the pose is holding
Pass the candle to the next in line as we move along
Really we're just one and the same

Really we're just one and the same
No need to fake it if the pose is holding
Pass the candle to the next in line as we move along
Really we're just one and the same

You put your money where your mouth is
You put your money where your mouth is.
