Yeah you're so smooth
Think you've got all the moves
Get a clue, so what its just high school
It's small town shit get over it
Working so hard just to see her split
Because she won't be back once she knows
About all your other little ho's
Quit acting like you own the place
You'll be passed by quick, so run your own race
And it won't matter to me

Can't you see?
A diamond in the rough
But your no jewel
Its just high school and your fake.
No matter how you play this game
Its always going to end the same
Why fight if you can't win?
An ounce of power is such a sin
To give to those who can't see
How they act and treat so unfairly
