This time the glove is latex
This time the suit is white
New life has found a place
It's laid eggs in someone's eye

I want control
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't

Your skin's a lot like plastic
Some kind of bad disguise
Transfusing blood for paper
So sweet, you're drawing flies

I want control
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't

Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
Would I still want control?
Even when you don't
