Verse 1:

Everyone knows what they're addicted to
For some people it's women or wine
You don't have to beg for the answer, girl
Cause you're the one I think of at night
Time and time again I could hate myself
For all that you've destroyed in my life
That's okay cause baby I'm movin on
You don't got no stake in my mind

Chorus:

I don't want to understand you cause
I don't even know your name
You can take my dollars away
And exchange them for guilt and for shame

Verse 2:

Everyone has something they're holdin to
They can't see in front of their eyes
That the things they spend their lives holding to
Is nothing but a package of lies
Time and time again it's destroying me
It's what I can't get rid of inside
People say it's easier running free
A prison at the end of the line
