Hold your head up high
Reach for the sky
Why is it falling
All that fills you inside
Never say die - a new day is dawning

Hold your head up high
Reach for the sky
Why is it falling
All that fills you inside
Never say die - a new day is dawning

I've been there where I've gone wrong
Conscience black from stealing time
Still we march as we strive till the war is won
And we'll stomp out this plastic oblivion
In search for this cell's key

Let me out

You should know with each stone you throw
The closer I am to be remembered
You should come back out to find my way
Don't lay in back - attack is understood

I've been there where I've gone wrong
Conscience black from stealing time
Still we march as we strive till the war is won
And we'll stomp out this plastic oblivion
In search for this cell's key
Let me out

You should know with each stone you throw
The closer I am to be remembered
You should come back out to find my way
Don't lay in back - attack is understood

You should know with each stone you throw
The closer I am to be remembered
You should come back out to find my way
Don't lay in back - attack is understood

Hold your head up high
Reach for the sky
Why is it falling
All that fills you inside
Never say die - a new day is dawning

Hold your head up high
Reach for the sky
Why is it falling
All that fills you inside
Never say die - a new day is dawning (now)

You should know with each stone you throw
The closer I am to be remembered
You should come back out to find my way
Don't lay in back - attack is understood
