think I might go down today complications way to deep wanna swim way out to sea implications on my skin feel the situation rise told myself to many lies working for the good of all and now I'm gonna take their fall if I go under why even come back

think I might sleep today things are moving way too fast pull me up before I pass got anchors on my ankles then again I better go cause everybody here will know think I might drown today

just motionless and stuck in it just motionless and heartless somebody give me a push before I drown
don't wanna go down
