Found a piece of hope today way down between the cracks starting to clear the way a copper wish across the tracks found a piece of me today sometimes it just goes that way spent a single second waiting what's the use to even stay try the best to understand I try the best to even stand so know you know

I'm not looking for somebody to fake take a look from the inside don't want it to break over and over again and again sometimes things I've just gotta take
