How do you want to feel now?
Do you move or wonder how?
So many thoughts, so many reasons
Walking right through you like you wanted me to Do you tell yourself it's all right, let it all go away?

Why do we still pretend there never was an end?
A different face you said you needed
And like an old movie, the stars are you and me
And for the final scene we're fucking caught somewhere in between

I'm not here, or goin there
I've been clean
I'm somewhere in between
I'm not here, or goin there
I've been clean
I'm somewhere in between

And now you've walked for so long
And with each step it keeps getting so wrong,
So wrong

I'm not here, or goin there
I've been clean
I'm somewhere in between
I'm not here, or goin there
I've been clean
I'm somewhere in between
Somewhere in between
