quit crying again
quit sleeping again
quit crying again
it's only hours in the end

heard you had a slip up silver splinters underneath you skin down deep, down deep to the bone what's left to do , when the truth comes through so you had a moment
a chance to gain some balance steering with your eyes takes time

ain't it funny how it starts to end down deep, down deep, so alone what's left to do except go home
so you had a moment
and I doubt that anysaw the second hand on the clock wasn't turning and all this time was learning
