Now I know you heard me
It's written on your face now
In truth you don't deserve me
So watch me break down
Here we go again
I'll start screaming while you shake your head
Your nervous laugh
You turn your back
I wish that you were dead
Will it all be fine tomorrow ?

You sit and watch me fall
And your always
Always wrong
You could have had it all
But you always
Never believed it

Decide who you want to be
And let me know now
I'm done agreeing to disagree
And I don't know how
If I meant so much
You could trash me when I'm not around
It's easy to stab me in the back
From where your sitting once think for yourself

You sit and watch me fall
And your always
Always wrong
You could have had it all
But you always
Never believed it

Sit at night and think of me
While everyone around here sleeps
To broken up to even breathe
Or close your eyes

I'll take away your future
Before I give you mine

And then in time you'll see
You traded in your passion for an ordinary life
And so just think of me
Think of me

You sit and watch me fall
And you always
Always wrong
You could have had it all
But you always
Never believed it

You sit and watch me fall
Cause you always
Always wrong
You could have had it all
But you always
Never
You always
