Tight blue jeans and lipstick on she puts her spell on everyone down and down and down they fall she walks on

High heels walk and uptown talk every guy would try their luck
down and down and down they fall
she walks on
and soon she'll be gone

She's got you wrapped round her finger expecting you to linger ooh and she walks on

She knows what she's got she's a teaser you're never gonna please her no and every time you try she'll turn away and don't you know she's never gonna change
she walks on

A million dollar and perfect face instead of a heart an empty space
down and down and down they fall

Her poison mind will make you drop then she'll use you up like a paper cup
down and down and down they fall
and soon you'll be gone

And you will never see her cry no no no
and you will always wonder why she's got you wrapped 'round her fingers
