She's unpredictable
I'm so incapable
If I knew the knowledge I know
I would take things slow
Look to the crowd, playing the show
Your not there I lost all my hope
When you're sitting back at home
I'll write songs and you will never know

This is the song, it goes like this
I'm confused should we kiss?
It's in my head, maybe that and more
Now all I think about is a way to score
I'm making to much of what this really is
I can't help but to feel like this
I think you of you as something less
Once again this is a mess

I'm not gonna ask what's going on
Please o please just
I feel like you're moving on
This is because
The friends you have I can't compete
My money's on the best
I think I know what you think of me
Maybe it's less

I don't think I should go
I've hit an all time low
So we are now just friends
Is it the same in the end?
So was this your perfect plan
I guess I wasn't the man
Who you thought would be there till the very end

I hate spending time with you
I'm looking for the clue
Countless times before
I've had to run out the door
You make your excuse to change our plans
There is another man
Not feeling right for the time of day

Why sometime's there's nothing to say

I'm not gonna ask what's going on
Please o please just
I feel like you're moving on
This is because
The friends you have I can't compete
My money's on the best
I think I know what you think of me
Maybe it's less

I don't think I should go
I've hit an all time low
So we are now just friends
Is it the same in the end?
So was this your perfect plan
I guess I wasn't the man
Who you thought would be there till the very end

I'm not gonna ask what's going on
Please o please just
I feel like you're moving on
This is because
The friends you have I can't compete
My money's on the best
I think I know what you think of me
Maybe it's less
