Translation:
Butterflies blink a few times before they learn to fly
The sky is full of stars, but a few will fall to the earth
I fly by, but the place where you drop
Is so close I can even hear your breath
I'm sorry, I still didn't catch you

You don't know why I left you
No matter how hard I try, I can't ignore your weeping
Your tears are like a downpour that floods the earth
And rings in my heart

You don't know why I'm so inflexible
Circling so far in the sky you can't see me
There are so many things you don't know
