What's the difference in all of this if it falls apart right now where's the evidence or the confidence that we'll hold our own somehow just go away there's really nothing wrong with you now i don't belong to every wrong and i refuse all blame just accept the pain and don't deny the scars will heal, the blood will dry my dear

i'll bend again but i'm broken down i'll bend again but i'm broken now
