A sun drives its rays down the road
A sky breaks the rays into rows
So chop me up, I'm here to see inside
Light laid on viscera and bone

Ditch my pride and let my body go
Cells collide and burst into a glow
Picture frames and scenes I used to know
Say the word, I'd easily let them go

The sun hides its face 'till the dawn
We're left black as coal once it's gone
So chop me up I'm here to bleed the light
Bright sprays of viscera and bone

Sun went down, I loom back to a town
A lurid sky became an open mouth
Blinking clouds with teeth covered in gold
Scream the words I needed years ago
