"Last Call"

Visit "Last Call" on MotoLyrics.com

Caught in a struggle
With your back against the wall
You saw it coming and you all must heed the call
Your time is short and you must decide
The path of action either live or die
The clock is ticking and it's moving fast
Can we move on or are we victims of the past

What a sacrifice - who will pay the price?

Racism flourished and it's stronger than before
People are fighting in another local war
Your time is short and you must decide
The path of action either live or die
The hate must stop and the war must cease
To make this world a place to live we must have peace

What a sacrifice - who will pay the price?

Think before you act...
Before it's too late...
