Who's got your heart? Where are you going?
Forgot the God you once were praying
Nobody knows the pain you feel
Pretend it's fine, but keep on falling

So many nights you spent alone
Is there a place that you call home?

This is the time, the days we're given
Now close your eyes, what are you seeking
Desire your best, desire what's real
What do you want? What are you leaving?

So many nights you spent alone
Is there a place that you call home?

What do you want? What are you leaving?
