So many times I thought of you tonight
Most of I can't even share
Car as passing by like stars
I keep wondering who you are
I could save some of these dreams tonight, but would
You care?
Do you care at all?

Some of these rhymes I write for you tonight
Praying, wishing that you cared
Had my heart safe in a jar
Never wished upon a star
You could save all of my dreams tonight
Would you dare? Do you care?

But maybe this was meant to be
Knowing you, forgetting me
Still I wonder where you are
You seems so close, are you that far?

So many times I thought of you tonight
Most of I can't even share
Car as passing by like stars
I keep wondering who you are
You could bring me back to life it seems
So just breathe out, I'll breathe you in Come closer to me

But maybe this was meant to be
Knowing you, forgetting me
Still I wonder where you are
You seems so close, are you that far?
