You've told him lies now for so long
Yet still he's ready to forgive
He's got you back and that's all he wants
A lot more than I'm left with

You don't care now that you're gone
But do you know how much I miss you?
It's not fair after all you've done
That I'm so, I still want to kiss you

Throwing presents straight away
'Cause you could never take them home
Always scared what he might say
But always leaving me alone

You don't care, now that you're gone
But do you know how much I miss you?
It's not fair after all you've done
That I'm so, I still want to kiss you

You told him what he wants to hear
And so you got another chance
But I was yours for seven years
Is that what you call a dalliance?

You don't care, now that you're gone
But do you know how much I miss you?
It's not fair after all you've done
That I'm so, I still want to kiss you
