

Wedding Present, The "Queen Anne"

When you push your hair away and stare at me with sleepy eyes
I get a feeling here, a feeling I don't recognize I wanna give you everything
I've been in love but this is worse I just want to cling to you and save you from the universe
'Cos I have fallen in a way I've never done before You're all I need today I don't want anything more
As unlikely as it seems, it's as if you've just appeared
Out of one of my dreams - I don't care if that sounds
weird
'Cos you're beautiful, and yet completely unaware Oh sure I miss my home but I'd live with you anywhere
'Cos I have fallen in a way I've never done before You're all I need today I don't want anything more
As unlikely as it seems, it's as if you've just appeared
Out of one of my dreams - I don't care if that sounds
weird
