

Weekend, The "Cold Feet"

Visit "Cold Feet" on MotoLyrics.com

Unwrap your heart for me becuase mint condition just means that you haven't been living. Who taught you to be so safe anyways? A scar is just a battle wound that tells the tale of earlier days Before cold feet...

I can't tell you that your heart
won't get broken
But c'mon now - throw some
caution to the wind.
I'm throwing it to the wind.

You could run away scared or look it straight in the eye and tell it "I don't want you coming here no more!"...don't wait
for it's reply. Tell me, what are you so afraid of?
Skinned knees and swaying trees?
The world outside? Oh honey, honey

Please don't be getting cold feet.
I can't tell you that your heart
won't get broken
But c'mon now - throw some
caution to the wind.
I'm throwing it to the wind.

You say "You don't know what I've been through!"
Why don't you tell me then,
cause I'd really like to.
Don't keep your heart under lock and key cause if you do
it won't find its way to me.

I'm throwing it to the wind...(repeat x4)

Visit Weekend, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
