Just another broken heart again
See your dreams in the arms of another man
You writhe
And then you turn and walk away
See her standing by an open car door
Mascara running, but from what you're not sure
Hair stuck to the side of her face
From the tears and the rain that's been fallin' for days
And you look her in the eyes,
Say "How could you cry on a night like tonight,
When the world you're running from
Is everything that we see in the spotlight?"

You and I could be
The kind of thing that you only see in movies.
Our world's a silver screen
I will hold you safe in my arms
Until the credits roll
And all the seats are empty

Just another way to let go
Your heart doesn't feel the way it ever felt before
You smile,
While you're pushing her away.
She doesn't talk so much to you anymore
Feelings locked away, 'cause she's still not quite sure
She's afraid to fall in love
And you're afraid, 'cause she just might be the one and Look her in the eyes,
Say "How could you run and not want to try,
When the one you're running from
Is never gonna tell you goodbye?"

You and I could be
The kind of thing that you only see in movies
Our world's a silver screen
I will hold you safe in my arms
Until the credits roll
And all the seats are empty

Put your shaking hands in mine

Together maybe we could find
A way to live (a way to live)
A way to live
Put your shaking hands in mine
Together maybe we could find
A way to live (a way to live)
A way to live

You and I could be
The kind of thing that you only see in movies
Our world's a silver screen
I will hold you safe in my arms
Until the credits roll
And all the seats are empty

Put your shaking hands in mine
Together babe we're gonna find
A way to live (a way to live)
A way to live
Put your shaking hands in mine
Together babe we're gonna find
A way to live (a way to live)
A way to live

You and I could be
The kind of thing that you only see in movies
Our world's a silver screen
I will hold you safe in my arms
Until the credits roll
And all the seats are empty
