Every minute alone, every day spent at home Every point of return, every thought and concern

Every moment that pass, every piece of my heart Every point of return, every running towards the top

Should I call you up? Should I call you up?

Every point of return, every thought and concern Every hour of doubt, try to figure it out

Should I call you up? Should I call you up?

Every minute alone, every day spent at home, Every running towards the top Every point of return, every thought and concern Every time I try to stop [x2]

Every minute alone, every day spent at home Every hour of doubt, try to figure it out

Every hour of doubt, try to figure it out Every hour of doubt, try to figure it out
