You don't care how we live here you don't care how we die There's a greater purpose a more important plan

You don't care what we have here you don't care what we need You know already everything you like to

We don't need your war
We don't need your war
We need more
We are waiting for a better dawn

We don't need your war
We don't need your war
We need more
We are waiting for a better dawn

We could care how you live there we could care how you die But you don't give a reason of any kind

We could care what you have there we could care what you need, but We've already made up our mind about you

We don't need your war
We don't need your war
We need more
We are waiting for a better dawn

We don't need your war
We don't need your war
We need more
We are waiting for a better dawn

We need more

more than you so much more

We need more
more than you
so much more

We need more
more than you

We don't need your war
We don't need your war
We need more
We are waiting for a better dawn

We don't need your war
We don't need your war
We need more
