Remember when
We used to talk?
What you told me before?
Hints of laughter, hints of pain
From both sides
You only talked about yourself
Said I wouldn't understand
Living in my painted world
If you only knew
What you thought you knew
Then you could spread your wings

It's my life
Don't tell me everything's alright
???Not really??? doesn't mean never
In disguise we all have our own lives
But you'll never see things
The way that I do

It seems so bad
The state your in
When you're alone
If it doesn't stay that way
And the pity stops

Where will you turn?
You never want to say that you feel bad
For someone else
Or feel their pain
But if you only saw that side
You'd see that they're the same as you
They've been knocked down

It's my life
Don't tell me everything's alright
???Not really??? doesn't mean never
In disguise we all have our own lives
But you'll never see things
The way that I do

It's my life
Don't tell me everything's alright

???Not really??? doesn't mean never
In disguise we all have our own lives
But you'll never see things
The way that I do...
