

Jamie Chesson"Train"

Visit "Train" on MotoLyrics.com

I was seventeen when the train passed through Young I had nothing better to do I was lost when I saw his pretty smile
He said baby can I hold you for a while

Guess I didn't know any better In Baton Rouge all I found was a letter
He left me without saying goodbye Alone on a train a little girl left to cry

Chorus:
And Im on a Train bound for nowhere where its going oh I don't know I should have said no but I didn't I should have let go but I didn't and now Im on a train bound for nowhere

I saw your ghost in California Heard your voice in a valley in Arizona it took miles and miles to get you out of my mind yeah i still think of you from time to time

When Im on a train bound for nowhere
where its going oh I don't know Should of said no but I didn't Should of let go but I didn't
and now Im on a train bound for nowhere

Bridge:
And even after all this time I wonder if you think of me well I thank the good lord for the day you set me free

Chorus x2

Visit Jamie Chesson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.