I keep on looking for that something
I keep on looking for that someone
I keep on looking for that world in my mind
That I never find
And you know something?

You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try

I keep on looking for that something
I keep on looking for that someone
I keep on looking for that world in my mind
That I never find
And you know something?

You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try

You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try

I keep on looking for that something
I keep on looking for that someone
I keep on looking for that world in my mind
That I never find

You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child

You just gotta try
You know you can own this world, child
You just gotta try

You know you can own this world

I keep on looking for that something
I keep on looking for that someone
