And then I'll be so happy
And then I'll be so sad
And then I'll be so grateful
For what I never had

I'm on my way
I won't be late
I don't know where I'm going
Or if I ever have

I spit out words at you
Giving leads and clues
It's this expression
That leads me to believe
That I have not been reaching
Far enough up my sleeve
Far enough up my sleeve
Far enough up my sleeve

I don't know where I'm going
You know I just don't care
You don't know where I'm going
Or if you ever cared

I spit out words at you
Giving leads and clues
It's this expression
That leads me to believe
That I have not been reaching
Far enough up my sleeve
Far enough up my sleeve
Far enough up my sleeve

Sons of morning
Daughters of the day
I don't know why she treats me
Cheats me this way
