I know that I should stay away from you but there's something about this.
Lets go, I'm in case of emergency,
break glass and bring down the flames.
This has been a taste of my own medicine and this doesn't taste all too great I'm not enjoying this.

Why are the ones that you want the ones you cant have?
And I know the place that you're in 'cause I built it.
American psycho.

I know as soon as I let go the gravity will kick in.
Lets go, well I wish I could turn this around,
break glass and bring down the flames.
This has been a taste of my own medicine
and this doesn't taste all too great I'm not enjoying this.

If only I had kept my mouth shut it wouldn't be like this.
I've been to the other side now I realize I shouldn't be like this.
If only I wasn't living on the other side I would have seen her coming.
It's a taste of my own medicine.
Why wont you let me in?
Why wont you let me win?
