The first time I saw her face
I was struck by the way that she moved.
As soon as I laid my eyes, by surprise, I fell quickly.
Then she told me that she was mine,
she told me to hold her so close.
She told me no one else could touch her skin the way I do.

While I was worlds away from earth with her
I escaped from all we used to do, all I knew was you.
Things got hard at times, I worked to make sure she smiled and when she looked at me, I swore I was her only.

Then you caught me off guard I never knew who you were.
I had plans for you and I, forever means forever.

I still want to be with you girl.
When I think about our times, years between our lives.
I wish there was a button
that could bring me back,
back before the time you came into my life.

While I was worlds away from earth with her
I escaped from all we used to do, all I knew was you.
Then I saw her beauty fade, I hope she knows how it hurt,
she left the knife inside my heart the wound healed
slowly.

You bitch!

When I was me without you.
