I saw you yesterday, it makes me feel so fragile.
I say your name out loud a feeling I thought never.
Now you understand a world so far, away we're left another day
afraid to join you to soon one day we'll reunite.

You brought me back, brought me back to "It could be me".

Your sight through memories will always be here after.
Just know that you left a mark inside our hearts forever.
Now you understand a world so far,
away we are left another day afraid to join
you to soon one day we'll reunite.

It's tragic, we had to lose a real good friend,
through you we learned a life lesson,
you don't know when it's over.
Live your life to the fullest don't waste a moment.
Eyes wide open, the road ahead is unexpected,
on your journey home please don't waste a moment.
Live life to the fullest!
