So I've brokened my routine without a trace with a shot of rudder I've slapped away my past And I watch it desappear behind te horizon without a wave,a greeting,a goodbye thoughts overlap and run fast from my head don't let I trap them in a sheet of paper from a pen thinkin'again I've a lump in my throat all is changin'now and getting worst All my future now, inchomprehensible, conditiones my life everyday Another helpin hand, another regret,

Do those things matter to me?
