Falling down again inside my past choked by memories and asking help and I don't know what's happening to me all my joys and all my fears rapid photograms in front of me are sliding fast making of this a film

is this real or is a dream 'it's a dream? it's clearer now the sky is crying for you maybe because I will never see ya

another minute and another why and there's no explanation I can find and I don't know I had just fighting for if I decide or anyone moves me right or wrong
