"Movement"

You think you know everything about it all,
But what have you done? You just watch you do nothing at all,
At least it's got emotion, anything to feel alive,
It doesn't matter, don't analyse, you'll be reliving past glories,
When I'll be making mine.

At least I'm moving, at least I can kiss tonight,
And you're not all that free, from your apathy,
You live your life through a TV.

Now you look up here - look, you are not alone,
You're so shallow, still you criticise,
You're the yes man, so negative inside.

At least I'm moving, at least I can kiss tonight,
And you're not all that free, from your apathy,
You live your life through a TV.

Movement, too passive aggressive,
Caged light, some manic depressive.

At least I'm moving, at least I can kiss tonight,
And you're not all that free, from your apathy,
You live your life through a TV.
