Anna Delane calls mike in LA at 12:45 on a friday Mike says to his friend its that one girl again, why is she calling at 12 on a friday she curls up in a chair and twirls with her hair as she snaps away shots on a cell phone then she sends them to Mike in LA, he's not sure what to say, so he turns off his cell phone why do we fall for this thing called love?

its a punch in the gut but we cant get enough why do we fall for this things called love?
when we know from the start that its breaking our heart tell me why, why, why do we fall for this thing called love?

then Anna Delane finds Mike in LA where he works part time at a book store, then Mike in LA see's Anna Delane and he hides in the back of the book store, then Anna Delane asks the manager Dane can you tell me where Mike might be?
the manager Dane, tells Anna Delane, look down aisle D, under Love Tragedy ,

why do we fall for this thing called love?
why do we fall for this things called love?
tell me why, why, why do we fall for this thing called
love?

then Anna Delane spots Mike from LA, and she says hey i brought you some sushi then Mike from LA, still not sure what to say, looks down at the floor of the bookstore then she turns away, tears rollings down her face, sushi dumps out on the floor, as Anna runs for the door, she's thinks to herself how could this be? i thought that our love was meant to be, but instead my hearts broken for all to see, shattered in pieces on aisle D, and she says...

dont look now cause im not in a condition to be seen, oh how did i end up in this position i did all this all on my own volition, I guess that's the way it goes on a solo love mission, and she cries...

why do we fall for this thing called love?
when we know from the start that its breaking our heart

why do we fall for this thing called love?
why do we fall for this things called love?
tell me why, why, why do we fall for this thing called
love?
