Should I remain in such a state?
Where I can feel that nothing in it's place,
Inside, what can I explain?
And all alone, undress the mystery.
Come undone, take the run to the other side.
I don't know where I'm going,
But I'll be there soon.

If you're never away, could I be in the arms of anyone?
If I fall into an endless well, will I ever live to tell?

Coming out of my own comedy,
Within a tragedy of which I won't recall.
Is it best to stay in reverie?
And to ever live it all.
From where I flowed,
I see no light house.
No open arms, no alarms,
Just the side of her and,
She looks at me, with lying eyes,
The ocean turns to sand.

If you're never away, could I be in the arms of anyone?
If I fall into an endless well, will I ever live to tell?
And if you're never away, could I be in the arms of anyone?
If I fall into an endless well, will I ever live to tell?
Live to tell.

I am building fences 'round, this state of mind.
And I am building fences 'round, this state of mind.
And I am building fences 'round, this state of mind.
And I am building fences 'round, this state of mind,
Would you like to come in?

If you're never away, could I be in the arms of anyone?
If I fall into an endless well, will I ever live to tell?
And if you're never away, could I be in the arms of anyone?
If I fall into an endless well, will I ever live to tell?
Live to tell
