"Daughter of the Sun"

I swear I will find you out.
Hush my thoughts, and tame my mouth.
I am not the better man.
Just a number in your leisure line.
Daughter of the sun you are.
Regret my name and fall apart.
To the chorus that you sing.
Could you maybe mention me.

This ones for that night, two people had a chance.
This ones for moonlight, tempting us both to dance.
This ones for a young boy and girl, by the roadside.

Honeycomb horizon lady.
Lead me on and blindly I'll follow.
Together we will start the fire.
You be color, I'll be the light.

This ones for that night, two people had a chance.
This ones for moonlight, tempting us both to dance.
This ones for a young boy and girl, by the roadside.

In your garden I lament.
With no gift to bear but an instrument.
But you look at me like a child.
Could you say something, could you wake me up.
Cause I'm falling, and you wont give up your love,
To conquer me.

This ones for that night, two people had a chance.
This ones for moonlight, tempting us both to dance.
This ones for a young boy and girl, by the roadside.
