"Shine"

Look at what we've become,
we were never afraid to run,
from everything we loved to hate,
and it's still the same,

Don't stop 'cause there's a way out,
Don't cry it's not too far down,
just take my hand and walk the path with me, You're more than I could ever be,
there's so much left that you don't see,
And I would give anything to see you shine, just like you used to,

Don't ever hide behind the stones you bare,
'cause they're no better than you,
or damaged or beautiful,
and I know I don't practice what I preach, but I am just a victim of lost hope and catastrophe
