A storm is coming
And thunder sends me running
All in a hurry
My heart is wrought with worry
And I know if I'm caught in the fury
Nothing will remain
Nothing will remain

The winds are growing angry like a sudden hurricane
Level me out
Leave me devastated like an Oklahoma Town

Should have seen it coming
And left the engine running
We've got to hurry
They tell us not to worry
But I've seen God in all her fury
And the damages sustained,
The damages sustained

The winds are growing angry like a sudden hurricane
Level me out
Leave me devastated like an Oklahoma Town

A storm is coming
And thunder sends me running
All in a hurry
My heart is wrought with worry
And I know if I'm caught in the fury
Nothing will remain
Nothing will remain

The winds are growing angry like a sudden hurricane
Level me out
Leave me devastated like an Oklahoma Town

Should have seen it coming
We've got to hurry
They tell us not to worry
But I've seen God in all her fury

And the damages sustained,
The damages sustained

The winds are growing angry like a sudden hurricane
Level me out
Leave me devastated like an Oklahoma Town
