

Winter Moods

"Crazy Moon"

Visit "Crazy Moon" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a crazy moon today
Run away, run away
Happy world's adopted son
Come undone, but it's alright

Times you feel so alone, sitting here
Blindly in a hall, so small

Turn the page and walk away
Walk away, walk away
Find the strength to carry on
Carry on, you'll be all right

Try to figure out what's wrong
Finding somewhere to belong
When all your senses reel

I want you to know
I still believe
I can achieve
What seems so hard and looks so bold
So I can feel
What life can deal
I'll let the music take me home

There's a crazy moon today
Run away, run away
What you have is what you've done
And what will be would be your ride

Cos I believe that everything
Revolves around the remedy of love
That's what I believe in
I surrender to the song
And everything will tag along
That's how I really feel

Visit Winter Moods page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

