

Working Title, The "There Is None"

Visit "There Is None" on MotoLyrics.com

I couldn't find you
Last night for quite some time
Wishing to tell you
Everything running through my mind

We would've drove down
Over the bridge and towards the sea
Parking this sad car
In between twenty-fourth and fifth

I wanna write a song about our love but there is none
I wanna write a song about our love but there is none

Still I continue
Driving the lonely road
Thoughts running over
And humming a sad forgotten song

Wasting all our time
That you're spending with someone else

Satiate my mind and calm my nerves to look and find The words that aren't enough and never show a single piece of my mind

I wanna write a song about our love, but something isn't there
I've been scared of the falling star

(I'll die without you)

Visit Working Title, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.