terrified of little she grabs my hat to settle uniformed hero scared of jaggy nettles incoming sounds think its heavy metal cohesive and loud angels roaring like a lion on the white and yellow lines we're standing before the red line and im thinking not now figures standing in the middle dressed in all yellow with his hat down and a stop sign he shouts come now waterfalls appear in the centrefold bite your lady with your teeth like an animal like the desert in the nights it gets cold to get the credit scan your barcode the faults of mummy discipline and her comforts respiratory food and water the constructs rival siblings technicolour dreamcoats sister let me have some sugar in my porridge oats
