A princess in chains
A body of pain
Alone inside
A dark place to hide

The calmness
Of this whisper
Calls her
To the light
Death sings
As the devil guides her
Her precious halo gone forever

The dark is alive
The rain keeps on fallin'
The princess defies
The prince that was chosen

She throws her head back to the sky
The Princess cries
Her fiery halo
It crumbles down
She's lost her crown

She throws her head back to the sky
To kiss the sun
And hope to find
A place to hide
Princess Defile

Escape the pain of this rusty chain
Running free in the pouring rain
Crystallized, her thoughts vivid clear
Revenge on the King, make him disappear

Cold steps in theÂ
Frosty night
Crimson candle
For her light
The fog clears as she
Faces her fears

A King's demise under lightning skies

The dark is alive
The rain keeps on fallin'
The princess defies
The prince that was chosen

She throws her head back to the sky
The Princess cries
Her fiery halo
It crumbles down
She's lost her crown

His palace reaches to the sky
A perfect place for him to die
Sacrifice on this sacred land
Taken down by his daughter's hand

She lifts the blade
To a darkened soul
It penetrates and he's on the floor
Soft lips and a precious kiss
She says good-bye as she starts to cry

The dark is alive
The rain keeps on fallin'
The princess defies

She throws her head back to the sky
The Princess cries
Her fiery halo
It crumbles down
She's lost her crown

Her castle reaches to the sky
Upon her horse the princess rides
She rules the land, she rules the sea
A beautiful Queen now, your Majesty

Her hair is soft and
Black as sin
Blood runs down
Her velvet skin
Cyanide beside her bed
As she lay lifeless
Dead
