"Wake Pig"

I was dreaming of this place
Where the earth and sky did blaze
And everywhere I'd run
The fire so high in the sky
Couldn't find the sun

Wake up, soldier
There's no dreams
Left in the dark
Save them
Save yourself
To the last breath
Never forget you could be over

Now my heart and mind are one
I look down at the blood on the ground
Tell me what I've done
And everywhere I see
The fire so high in the sky
Now we can't get free

Wake up, soldier
There's no dreams
God has called you home
To the last day
Ever the flame levers the spark
Beyond the static screen
The monster wields a dream
He knows he can't be seen
Behind the mask

Shadows seem to multiply
In the space where they'll never find time
For all across the universe
The uninvited guest
It's like an...

Wake up, soldier
There's no dreams
Save them

Save yourself
To the last breath
Never forget you could be over
You could be over
What if nothing is something that you could be?
You could be over
You could be over
What if nothing is something that you could be?
You could be over
