Word gets out when this just started out that everything would turn out this way, First it was a phone call then it was another from a mother who was ready to play
She said things that no one ever told me before How could I have known that she wanted to settle the score?

Then a man came in
I can probably see it and it looks like your having fun And when I get back you're gonna be bleeding so I think son you'd better run Now I think I should be leaving cause it looks like I've had enough
She was the deceiver but I had to believe her when she told me she was in love

She told me she was in love
She told me she was in love

I knew I could fix it just another minute
But I guess it was a minute too late I knew he was coming
And I should have been running If he'd caught me I would never escape
Now I know it never should have been a surprise How could I have known that she was only telling me lies?

Cause a man came in I thought you were leaving but i see you're still having fun
Now I'm back you're gonna be bleeding so I think son you'd better run
Now I see I should be leaving cause it looks like I've had enough
She was the deceiver but I had to believer her when she told me she was in love

Don't blame me,
It's not my fault
Don't blame me,

I'm not the one

Cause a man came in
I thought you were leaving but I see you're still having

(Don't blame me)

Now I'm back you're gonna be bleeding so I think son
you'd better run

(Don't blame me)

Now I see I should be leaving cause it looks like I've done enough

(Don't blame me)

She was the deceiver but I had to believe her when she

She told me she was in love
