"She Is Love"

she walks through the city noone recognises her face they don't want her pity noone ever mentions her name she's carried the broken her scars have no name in her heart she walks in forgiveness she'll shine like a light in the dark

she is love (she is love)
she is love (she is love)

she'll always remember the days when they welcomed her here they know if they need her she made a promise to always be here

she is love (she is love)
she is love (she is love)

when they are weak she will always be strong though they don't know it they are never alone no matter how many times they may leave it's never hopeless coz she still believes

she is love (she is love)
she is love (she is love)
she is love (she is love)
she is love
